Radiology Report:

Patient Name: Clara Plante

HSN# 825545737

RIGHT CLAVICLE

AP radiograph of what appears to be a right clavicle (marker not evident to substantiate). The medial end of the clavicle has been clipped on the x-ray and is not visible. There is an oblique fracture noted at the lateral end of the clavicle. Some soft tissue edema is evident, but no other abnormalities are noted at this time. There are artifacts present from the patient's bra strap. Follow up in three weeks is recommended to check for evidence of healing. As no history of a fall or other trauma, additional information may be useful to determine if the injury is pathological in nature rather than trauma related.

HISTORY: Pain In right shoulder on movement.
